

Thinking like an ecosystem

We are not apart from nature we are part of nature, and human history has evolved in close-knit communities to express this.

There are 6 inherent traits that humans have evolved to help us work together by using co-operation, empathy, fairness, efficacy, meaning and imagination.

