

Ecosystem Traits

Meaning

Meaning is a really important part of making us human and adding value to our lives. The times when we don't have a sense of meaning or value in our lives, the times we feel depressed and shut down and disconnected, whether that's religion or spirituality, whether that's voting, activism, however it is to give our daily lives value.